Importance of Advertising.

Fight the devil with fire. Any plans for the protection of retail merchant and the jobbers and the manufacturers who sell to the retail trade must go to the very root of the evil—must meet the catalog house competition at every point and on their own grounds—the advertising field.

The catalog houses are conducting the most comprehensive, systematic, and far-reaching advertising campaign that was ever planned, and they have been at it for years, spending dollars where the retail and wholesale merchants have spent cents. They have had the business courage to put their money into publicity, knowing that they would get it back multiplied a hundred fold. They have created the demand for their goods and educated the people to look upon the mail order business as a great blessing.

What has been done in an organized way to offset this avalanche of mail order journals and catalogs?

Nothing.

Some of the local merchants have advertised liberally, but a much larger number have utterly failed to keep up with the procession. The people often do not know what the local merchant has in his store, neither do they know the prices, but they do know what the catalog house has to sell, and the price is always before the eye.

If the retail trade is to hold its ground against the competition of the catalog houses, they must meet them on the broad field of advertising and publicity, as well as on the field of prices. And this must be done through the local press.

In nearly every town the local publisher has stood manfully by the interests of the community by refusing to run mail order advertisements. Further, he stands ready to prosecute an aggressive campaign against the mail order idea. What is necessary is concerted action among the merchants and a liberal use of the local columns to convince the people that they can save money by trading at home.

A. E. Rankin, State agent Champion Bridge Company, who has built the five substantial bridges in this county, sold a nice job in Magoffin county this week.

DANGEROUS ASSAULT.

Marshal A. P. Johnson Narrowly Escapes Death at the Hands of Drunken Men in this City Saturday Evening.

As Marshal A. P. Johnson was going home to his supper Saturday evening near Clay City Spoke Company's office Dave Edge slipped up behind him and knocked him in the head with a spoke which felled Johnson to the ground as if he had been shot. Johnson was walking along with Claude Alexander and John Young, and when he fell to the ground these men are charged with having jumped upon Johnson with fists and a peice of plank and beat his head almost into a jelly. Wm. Bellis and Dick Bellis came up at this time and with drawn revolver the men were forced to get up on their feet.

The men fled. However about that time June Walters, Jr. came upon the scene and some way came into possession of the Marshal's pistol and police badge, and went and surrendered these to Sheriff J. M. Kennon who promptly went to the scene and soon overtook Edge and brought him to jail, and the next day the other two men together with June Walters, Jr. who got the officers pistol and badge were arrested and placed in Stanton jail where Edge had been taken the night before for safe keeping.

Earlier in the afternoon Johnson had taken a pistol off of Edge but let him go on $100 bond for his appearance in court later. He was in company with these other men and it is supposed they plotted together to end the officers life.

While Mr. Johnson is very seriously hurt, Dr. Smith, the attending physician, does not consider his injuries necessarily fatal and now expects him to recover, and this is indeed gratifying to his many friends.

These men will have an examining trial at Stanton, May 20, at which time it is hoped Mr. Johnson will be able to appear against them.

The Democratic committee of the Second Congressional district has declared A. Owsley Stanley the nominee for Congress without opposition. This nomination is for his fourth term, and three times he has been nominated without opposition. Representative Stanley has been prominent on the floor of the House as a spokesman for the tobacco growers.

There is a big frost scheduled for this date May 14 and also another big frost for May 20.

BIG POWER HOUSE

For Clay City If Water will Develop Sufficient Power.

Michigan Capitalists Back of Project. Will Investigate at Once.

Some Michigan capitalists were here this week investigating the water power in view of putting in a mammoth power house and run the same by the water here. They were very favorably impressed with the outlook and the conditions in general. They were informed of the proposition of the Kentucky Union Company to furnish the lease rights for water for five years free. Everything looks good up to this, but they say they are afraid the volume of water in dry seasons will be too small to generate the required power. However they will measure up the stream in a few days when they return and calculate the exact capacity of the stream. They left here Tuesday evening and went to Millersburg where they will likely put in a small local lighting plant later.

If the project goes through the company will furnish electricity for power, light and heat, and will transmit same to Mt. Sterling and Winchester. With water as the original motive power, these gentlemen say that electricity can be furnished for either of the three purposes mentioned much cheaper than it can be furnished from any other source.

This is a chance of a life time it seems to us and every citizen of Clay City should certainly lend an encouraging hand to get the enterprise on foot.

Where is the Difference?

This Guinness affair at Laporte, Ind., is a great deal worse than all the crimes perpetrated in Eastern Kentucky. Breathitt county included, in the past several years. Still it will receive no additional notoriety because it is in Indiana, and it is right that it should not, but if half such a greivous find should occur in Eastern Kentucky, the natural character of the crime would be implied as the cause, and great prejudice of the public engendered against the people of this part of the State.

Powell county is not in the maligned belt, but we have all along noticed the unjustness done to our neighbors, and we have also noticed the principle back of the feuds, and it is never an act to wring money from any one, but originates from wrong or fancied wrong done to some of the participants, which in a measure honestly looks excusable to both sides.

But such murderers as in the Guinness affairs and most others perpetrated in the North are for the sole purpose of robbing the victims, which can have no shadow of excuse. If the population of Eastern Kentucky, as a class, are held responsible for the feuds that occur, the people of Indiana should be held to a like responsibility for such murders and robbing as has taken place in the Guinness affair.

In both instances it is unjust to hold the mass of people to account for what a few may have done, but it is far more unfair to the people of Eastern Kentucky than to the Indiana people taking every surrounding circumstance into reasonable consideration.

Government Intervention.

When the paper trust was organized and all the mills set a certain and same price, there were no soldiers sent about their mills to intimidate them and keep them from carrying their compact into effect; when the sugar trust was organized for a like purpose no soldiers interfered; when the oil trust, steel trust, farming implement trust, machine trust and even the contemptible tobacco trust, were formed no one heard of the interference of soldiers. But when the farmers band together under the name Society of Equity to combat with these iniquitous robbers, their plans must be thwarted by the presence of soldiers scattered all through the country under "secret orders." Such conditions are shameful and will soon become unbearable with the farming and laboring people.

Capitalists have ruled this country long enough, and it is now time that the real producers of all wealth in the land should have at least an equal showing with them, without government interference and the presence of soldiers, especially in the most peaceful and orderly section of the commonwealth.

These soldiers should be sent to those cities, and they are in this country, where the price of a man's life is ten dollars, if he happens to have that amount of cash on his person.

Good Work for Soldiers.

We sometimes get ashamed of the newspaper business when we learn of so many false reports being daily published in them, and see so many true reports which reflects on prominent men not published. Saturday's papers reported from Madison county that in a night rider raid a citizen had instantly killed two negroes and wounded a prominent white farmer who among other riders had attempted to make this man scrape his tobacco bed.

Gov. Willson's soldiers were at once dispatched there, and after a thorough investigation, reported that no such trouble had occurred, and that the report was without any foundation whatever.

This is one good act the soldiers have done. They have run one lie down. Now if they will chase the liar in the case down and deal with him as a night rider, and keep this up all over the State they will do a good deed and in the end all good people will rise up and bless Governor Willson and his soldiers.

Should Study Further.

The Governor of this great Commonwealth says that Kentucky farmers often get more out of one crop of tobacco than their farm is worth. By this assertion we must presume that he intimates that the farmers are already getting too much for their tobacco.

The Governor should study well the condition of Hiram Hedges who was recently killed by night riders. Mr. Hedges had been a worker in the tobacco field for twenty years and wife and children worked in the same field with him, and when he was killed he did not have enough money to buy his children shoes and clothes, and the entire outfit of furniture in his house would not sell for fifty dollars.

From what we can learn if Marshal Johnson had died from his injuries Saturday night, there would have been a lynching in Powell county. This same spirit was demonstrated when Dr. Irvin was stabbed a few years ago by the negro Max O'Rear.

We have the best people in the world in Clay City, but they seem to be of such a fractious temperament when such serious propositions come up to them, that we fear they might do things they possibly shouldn't do.

There is business ahead for Clay City, and if our people were only properly harnessed together and would make a continuous strong steady unanimous pull, before 1909 our effort would be certainly rewarded with some worthy enterprise of prosperity. Getting organized for action, however, is nine-tenths of the struggle, and just here is where we are liable to fall down as we have always done before.

Senator Benjamin Sewell in his nominating speech of John W. Langley at Winchester last week in speaking of his running ability said, "he (Langley) could out run Jesus Christ if he were here." Such language will make any Christian shudder with awe, and proves the weakness and un-reverential heart of the speaker. Any person who would dare make such a statement should be black listed in all Christendom.

It seems that a great deal more evidence can be gotten against the soldiers for lawlessness than they (the soldiers) can obtain against the night riders. Better now have the night riders regulate the soldiers so they in turn may be fit to regulate the night riders again.

An exchange says, the Taft men and the Fairbanks men are making lots of noise—but what's the use? It's going to be the Roosevelt-Bryan race over again with the result reversed. We thought it was Parker and Roosevelt and Bryan and McKinley.

It was hoped by Powers and Howard that Gov. Willson could remain in Frankfort long enough to complete the record in their cases so they could get free, but they missed. He was taken away the day he was to make the decision. This time on real business.

Talk about no request for the soldiers now parading over the rich agricultural portions of Kentucky—Why wouldn't the American Tobacco trust ask for them under present conditions?

Mountain feudists seem only fit to patrol the Bluegrass rural districts as soldiers and form a peaceful army to petition the Legislature in contest cases.

Bradley has verified the truthfulness of the old saying "empty wagons rattle loudest."

Since the era of local conventions has past Spring fever has set in in earnest.

A Californian's Luck.

"The luckiest day of my life was when I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve," writes Charles F. Budahn, of Tracy, California. "Two 25c. boxes cured me of an annoying case of itching piles, which had troubled me for years and that yielded to no other treatment." Sold under guarantee at Swann-Day Lumber Co.'s store.

Tired in Clark County.

While Winchester feels some pride at being the hub of the wheel of the Blue Grass counties her citizens are growing tired of Winchester being made the dumping ground for Willson's soldiers. There was a bunch of them here several days last week and in the bunch were three or four negro troopers. There has been no disorder in this county, except such as has been created by these soldiers by shooting into school houses and threatening citizens who live near the highway, and no request had been made by any of the civil authorities for soldiers to be sent here and the soldiers have not reported to any civil authority. This is all in violation of the Constitution of the State, but it is in keeping with the Republican idea of Government. — Winchester Democrat.

LETTERS FROM USERS OF THE Syracuse "EASY" Washer

"Your machine is a complete success. I learned more about washing out of your little booklet than I ever would have from all the women you could stand in a row. I have been paying $1.25 a week for washing when I can do the same in two hours with the 'EASY'." J. M. BYRD, Hampton, Va.

"We have tried the 'EASY' and find it just as you represent it and the only washer I ever saw that does the washing clean without rubbing on the board. It is easy to work and does the washing thoroughly. It certainly has no equal." E. E. LIGGETT, R. D. 1, Box 4, Arella, Pa.

Make the washing easy for one-twelfth of the year at our expense. Wash everything washable in the house. If you cannot make the 'EASY' earn its price during the house-cleaning season return it at our expense. Pages 26-27 of our free book on Washing Formulas give you valuable information on washing formulas. DODGE & ZUILL, 26 Dillaye Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.
